Our Environment

10.1 Reading

Maaha lived in a small town. She used to go to school every day. One day, Miss Farah taught the class that all the physical surroundings on the earth are called environment and must keep the environment clean. The next morning, Maaha woke up early to find environment. She searched under the bed. Maaha opened the window and saw many trees. Smelly garbage was piled under the trees. She was worried and had many questions to ask her elder sister Sabeen.

Sabeen: What are you doing outside?

Maaha: I am looking for the environment.

Where can I find it?

Sabeen: It is everywhere. (Maaha looked right, left, up and down and at her feet.)

Maaha: Where is it?

Sabeen: Take a deep breath. The air that you just inhaled is part of it.

Maaha: Do you mean, we breathe the environment all the time?

Sabeen: Yes, air is a part of the environment.

Clean water is also the part of the environment.

Maaha: What about bad smell and the dust under my bed? Is that also the environment?

Sabeen: Yes. You are right! The environment can be good or bad. It is everywhere. A clean environment can help make us strong and healthy. Dirty environment can make people and animals sick.

The Story of a Pencil

11.1 Reading

A boy was watching his grandmother writing a letter. At one point he asked: 'Are you writing a story about what we've done? Is it a story about me?' His grandmother stopped writing her letter and said to her grandson: 'I am writing about you, actually, but more important than the words is the pencil I'm using. I hope you will like this pencil when you grow up.' Intrigued, the boy looked at the pencil. It didn't seem very special. 'But it's just like any other pencil I've ever seen!'

'That depends on how you look at things. It has five qualities which, if you manage to hang on them, will make you a person who is always at peace with the world.'

'First quality: you are capable of great things, but you must never forget that there is a hand guiding your steps. We call that the hand of Allah, and He always guides us according to His will.'

'Second quality: now and then, I have to stop writing and use a sharpener. That makes the pencil suffer a little, but afterwards, he's much sharper. So you, too, must learn to bear certain pains and sorrows, because they will make you a better person.'

'Third quality: the pencil always allows us to use an eraser to rub out mistakes. This means that correcting something is not necessarily a bad thing; it helps to keep us on the road to justice.'

'Fourth quality: what really matters in a pencil is not its wooden exterior, but the graphite inside. So always pay attention to what is happening inside you.'

'Finally, the pencil's fifth quality: it always leaves a mark. In just the same way, you should know that everything you do in life will leave a mark, so try to be conscious of that in your every action.'

The Magic Tree

I am a magic tree. Say the magic words and you will see

12.1 Reading

Once upon a time a little boy was walking through a park. In the middle of the park there was a tree with a sign on it. The sign said: "I am a magic tree. Say the magic words and you will see." The boy tried to guess the magic words. He tried abracadabra. Next he tried Khul ja sim sim. Then he tried tan-ta-ra-ra, and lastly he tried lalalalala. Sadly, none of his words worked.

Exhausted, he fell down on the floor, saying: "Please, dear tree. Please open your door!" and suddenly, a big door opened in the trunk. Inside everything was dark, except for a sign which said "Carry on with your magic." The boy was very happy. He said "Thank you, dear tree!"

As soon as he said this, the tree lit up brightly and he saw a pathway. He walked some more and saw a big pile of toys and chocolates. He ran towards the toys and tried to grab a big red shiny car. It disappeared! He was confused.

He suddenly remembered what to do. He said: "I am sorry for not asking. May I please take a few toys?"

As soon as he said this, the toys came back. He took chocolates after taking permission as well.

The little boy brought all his friends to the magic tree, and they had the best party ever. He made sure that all his friends remembered their manners. His friends did so. They used all the magic words: please, may I, sorry, thank you and excuse me.

Now you learn why people always say that courtesy words are magic words.
